

2020 Nominee:
HR Professional of the Year!

Please join us in congratulating Vicki Krotzer, PHR, SHRM-CP, HR Consultant with Maximum Business Consulting.

Vicki was recently nominated by the York Society for Human Resource Management for the 2020 HR Professional of the Year Award.

This annual prestigious award is bestowed upon a Human Resources Professional that excels in the arena of HR. This individual is a community advocate and York SHRM member who, preferably, is certified in Human Resources through the Human Resource Certification Institute and/or SHRM (national Society for Human Resource Management). Vicki proudly carries both certifications since 2002 and 2015, respectively.

Vicki exemplifies the meaning of HR Professional. Having practiced human resource management over the past 30 years, she has lead small and large HR Teams to excellence for several companies throughout York and Dauphin Counties. Over the past 11 years she has helped numerous small to medium-sized companies in their time of need in human resources as a highly competent HR Consultant with Maximum Business Consulting.

Throughout her years in human resources she has also dedicated herself to community outreach not only in the HR field but also in other arenas. She is a past President of York SHRM (2000/2001) and has served as their Treasurer for the past four and a half years. Vicki also served as the Director for Pennsylvania State Council of SHRM in 2009 and 2010. She also chairs the York County Cooperative Job Fair which has been operating for the past 23 years. Vicki served as a board member for 12 years with Family First Health, an FQHC in York, and served as the President of the Board for two years. She also served on the Margaret E. Moul Home Sustainability Committee in 2018 and 2019. In this past year she also took on the role of HR Consultant for the Manufacturer's Association of South Central Pennsylvania that boasts over 350 members.

Congratulations, Vicki, on your nomination.
